

The Buckeye Arborist

Ohio Chapter International Society of Arboriculture
www.ohiochapterisa.org

Member book review:

Desirable trees for the Midwest

Desirable Trees for the Midwest by Scott Zanon should be highly recommended to all arborists who are looking for some of the best trees for planting or for recommendations to clients in this climate. This book is an indispensable source of reference with fantastic color photographs and descriptions of 50 underutilized trees ideal to the Midwest. Zanon's book also includes an invaluable list of problem trees that are not recommended for planting because of specific noted problems.

Desirable Trees for the Midwest is a great value for all of the visual references, noting the different phases of the trees throughout season changes. This book is worth purchasing, not only for the plant knowledge, but it is a must-have reference for anyone in the arboricultural or landscape field.

For more information, visit www.desirabletrees.com.

Dave Ahlum
Ahlum & Arbor Tree Preservation
Hilliard, Ohio

